

Two thousand years ago God suddenly entered into the human dilemma in the person of Jesus Christ. It was not sudden from the heavenly perspective, but earth was almost totally unprepared.

The kings of the earth were not expecting this heavenly invasion although Herod did ask around for information relating to the coming king.... but he was too busy to go and see the King of the Jews and Ruler of the Universe. The religious leaders had the answer about the location and details of that event, but they were also too busy to go and worship. The people of Bethlehem were so caught up in the affairs of life that they had neither time nor room for the baby King.... but the King came on schedule so God had to rustle up a few other folks to welcome Him.

There were a few shepherds who caught the drift and hurried to the stable. There were some foreign visitors or uncertain religious background, who were led by a star to worship Him. Then there was Anna and Simeon who by a specific revelation of God, discovered Him in the temple and welcomed and honored Him.

The rest of the world was..... well..... just too busy..... waaayy, too busy.

Little has changed as we rush into the season when we well, ...some folks..... a few still celebrate His birth.....

If you are going to be among the few who celebrate the birth of the GOD Who became man, it will take a determined effort. Almost everything in life will stand against you.

Besides..... that was a long time ago, so why bother??? Like the people of long ago..... we have more important things to do... OR DO WE?

And how does one go about celebrating a birthday, when the guest of honor is absent. Or..... or is HE PRESENT to any who seek Him? Only those who seek HIM will know.

Love and blessings,

George
